Enable self-service

Intuitive self-service portals and kiosk applications improve the efficiency of physical access management and provide a superior user experience for employees, visitors, and contractors. With RightCrowd, it's easy to simplify and accelerate the lost or forgotten badge replacement experience.

Keep your PACS in sync with your business

RightCrowd SmartAccess provides an intelligent software layer that dynamically links your PACS with relevant business systems. Our software keeps identities in sync at all times, manages credentials across your PACS, and ensures that physical access is restricted to only those that need it at the time they need it.

Enforce safety, security and compliance

RightCrowd SmartAccess validates that everyone is trained for the job, is working in compliance with local regulations, and can be evacuated safely in an emergency. Site or area entry can be tied to competencies, health checks, background checks, and other requirements.

Go into your next audit with confidence

Keep full audit trails in real time of all identity, credential, and access level changes including why access levels were approved and by whom, especially for sensitive areas. With RightCrowd SmartAccess, you're prepared for an audit anytime.

Automate the lifecycle management of cardholders and credentials

Your workforce changes every single day. Keep your employee, contractor, and visitor information proactively up-to-date with your Physical Access Control System (PACS) by using automation driven from your organization's HR, IT, Finance, OH&S data, and other relevant business data sources.

Support audit and compliance requirements

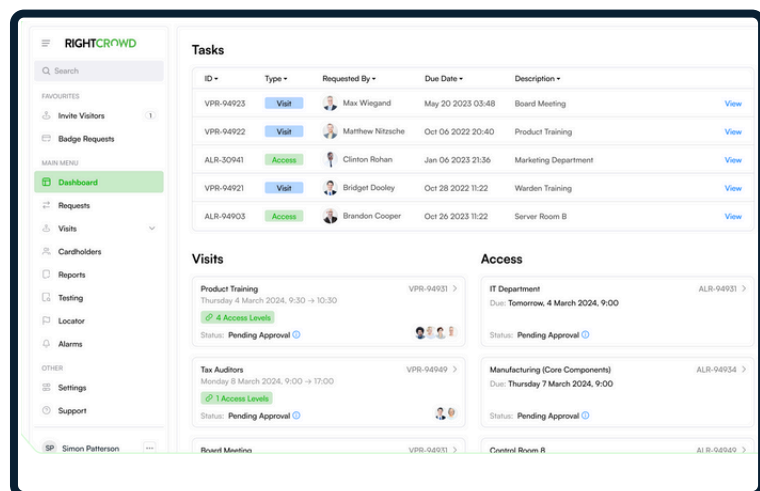

Prevent privilege creep. Both best practices and industry standards dictate that all physical access permissions and changes to those permissions are stored and available for audit purposes. It is not sufficient to know who has access to what. You also need to know why certain access levels were granted, and who approved it, especially for high-risk areas.

RightCrowd SmartAccess software keeps full audit trails of all changes to both cardholder identities and access levels. Our software suite also includes a module that automates access audit and attestation. With RightCrowd you are ready for an audit at anytime.

Enforce security, safety and health policies continuously

Every industry has strict safety, health and security requirements that need to be checked before access is granted. From a mandatory safety induction video or NDA, to required certifications or random screenings, to time spent on site, these requirements need to be enforced to both protect people and ensure compliance.

RightCrowd SmartAccess includes software modules to automatically manage time-on-site constraints related to fatigue management, to enforce random drug and alcohol tests, to validate training, certification or medical requirements, and to streamline mustering in case of an evacuation. This ensures that access will be denied if those requirements are not met through our integration with your Physical Access Control System.

All your systems working seamlessly together

Integrate information from multiple PACS, HR, identity, and other directory systems, background checks, learning management, ERP, and more to create a single cardholder profile for all your personnel including employees, visitors, contractors, and students.

RightCrowd SmartAccess helps connect your systems and automate your processes so you can make good access decisions, improve safety and security, and strengthen compliance in your organization.
